Summary

I'm currently seeking a career as a full-stack web developer, driven by a passion for creating interactive and responsive web applications. With 3 years of industry experience and a background as a project coordinator in an agile environment, I'm now focused on building my career as a dedicated full-stack developer. As a web developer, I have experience working with latest technologies like MERN, Next.js, Supabase, SQL and Git. A quick learner and team player, I'm always eager to expand my knowledge and collaborate with others to develop innovative and impactful solutions.
